

Lines of latitude and longitude are used to locate points on the Earth's surface. But how can we do this?

Prime meridian

First we say how far north or south of the equator it is.

Where is this line?

Equator